

Sustainable Management and Preservation of Stone in Masonry Buildings

Program

- 09.00-09.05 Welcome by Kerstin Westerlund Bjurström, President ICOMOS Sweden
- 09.05-09.15 Sustainable Management and Preservation of Stone in Masonry Buildings
Introduction to the Theme by Professor Jan Rosvall
- 09.15-09.45 The Royal Palace, Stockholm – Long Term Maintenance of its Exterior Natural Stone
Professor Andreas Heymowski, Palace Architect, Royal Palace of Stockholm
- 09.50-10.20 Doing Less, More Often
Conservator Julian James, Scuola Universitaria Professionale della Svizzera Italiana, Lugano
- 10.25-10.45 Coffee-break
- 10.45-11.20 From Emergency Admission to Home Care: Current Strategies of Preservation at the Cathedral of Bern
Architects Anette Loeffel and Hermann Häberli, H. Häberli-Architekten, Bern
- 11.20-11.55 “Monuments Gloomng in new Splendour“ – Stone Conservation or Exchange
Dr. Esther von Plehwe-Leisen, Untersuchungslabor für Fragen der Natursteinerhaltung, Cologne
Professor Hans Leisen, Cologne University of Applied Sciences
- 12.00-13.00 Lunch

- 13.00-14.00 Integrated Stone Projecting by ProDenkmal, Germany; Strategies for Planning and Methods for Controlling Quality and Sustainability
Engineer Wolfgang Frey and Dr. Rupert Utz, ProDenkmal GmbH Bamberg, Berlin
- 14.00-14.35 Lausanne Cathedral and Specific Substitutions: a Conservation Strategy
Architect Christophe Amsler, Christophe Amsler Bureau d'architecture, Lausanne
- 14.35-15.00 Coffee-break
- 15.00-15.35 How to Evaluate Efficiency and Durability of Stone Conservation Treatments – A Methodology
Dr. Stefan Simon, Director at Rathgen Research Laboratory at the National Museums, Berlin
- 15.40 –16.30 Discussion

Date: March 19, 2010

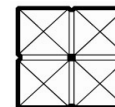

Location: Tessinsalen, Stockholm City Museum

Registration: www.icomos.se

Latest date for registration: March 5, 2010

The seminar is organized in co-operation with the National Property Board, the Swedish National Heritage Board, the Society of Architectural Conservation, Stockholm City Museum and the Swedish Stone Industries Federation.

The seminar is free of charge. However, 100 SEK will be charged for the refreshments served during coffee-breaks, please bring the exact change.

Sällskapet för
Restaureringskonst

